

HEY, I'M MADDIE

A big personality, quick wit and passionate creative – me, in a nutshell. I love working with brands and organizations to help empower people (especially women) to be their truest, baddest, boldest selves. A fast, hard-working and energetic creative, I pride myself on being a "forever student" – always pushing my own creative boundaries and expanding on my technical skillset. A perfectionist in the details who can also see the big picture, I quickly become the "fixer-upper" of every team and the go-to for all things creative; absorbing all information, content, creative and goals to make sure each deliverable is as badass as possible (respectfully). Having a massive passion for design and a curious nature (I'll try anything twice), I am excited by a challenge. I'll liven up any room with my good-natured lack of filter, but I hustle even harder when it's go-time.
